★ The Starlight program notes.

★ “Where Poppies Grow” will be presented by

★ Denniele Bohannon who designed a quilt

★ honoring all those who served in WWI including

★ her great grandfather, Almo, a World War I

★ soldier whose letters home were preserved in the ★ family. Her original blocks were published in

★ series in the Kansas City Star a 2014 followed by

★ the publication of her book WHERE POPPIES

★ GROW the same year.

★ Denniele has been teaching quilt making in the

★ adult education programs in Harrisonville Schools

★ since 2007. She was a member of NQA and is a

★ member of MOKA an organization for quilt

★ historians in Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and

★ Arkansas. (Ask her about that group, you might be ★ interested in attending their gatherings.)

★ She has five grown children and, at the time of

★ the book’s publication, three grandchildren. She

★ will be staying with a new grandchild while visiting

★ us in October.

★ The US entered WWI in the summer of 1917 and

★ armistice was signed in November of 1918.

★ Denniele will share Almo’s story nearly 100 years

★ after those letters arrived.

★ Both Denniele and I recommend the WWI

★ Memorial in Kansas City. It is a comprehensive

★ retelling of the war beautifully designed and the

★ only national museum dedicated to WWI. You

★ enter the museum across a glass bridge over a

★ field of poppies.

★ Bettina

★ Note: Google TOWER OF

★ LONDON POPPIES for an

★ extraordinary view of the ceramic poppies placed

★ to commemorate the opening of WWI.

★ DAY CHAPTER

★ OCTOBER 2, 2017

★ Jan Hobbs, Patriot Piecers, a Quilts of

★ Valor chapter in Columbia, Missouri will be

★ our speaker. Jan will review the history of the ★ organization, the mission, how it works, why

★ it works and a trunk show.

★ Quilts are pieced, quilted and awarded to a

★ veteran in two to three ceremonies a year.

★ Each veteran is very appreciative even if

★ he/she often feels underserving as serving is

★ viewed as just part of defending our country.

★ The Quilts of Valor Foundation has a

★ national presence which you may explore at

★ govf.org for further information.

★ This seems short and does not come close

★ to explaining how this foundation does what

★ it does. Please plan to attend and receive

★ more details and view the wonderful

★ Quilts of Valor.

★ DON'T FORGET YOUR

★ BLOCK TO BE PRESENTED

★ TO JAN FOR QUILTS OF

★ VALOR.

The next board meeting is
October 9 at 6:00 pm at DBRL.
All members are welcome to attend.

CEO MESSAGE

CEO message:

The BTQG board meeting was very productive. We decided on the name for the quilt show marketplace. It will be THREADNEEDLE STREET. Threadneedle Street now is the London financial street, their version of Wall Street but historically it was the street of textile work like, drapers, seamstresses, etc. It will be our showplace of the skills of our modern needle workers.

We spent some time discussing fundraising options and we plan a spring garage sale so start thinking about any general household items, garden tools, outdoor equipment and craft and sewing items that are taking up space that you want back for more fabric. More details will follow.

October meetings are one year away from the 2018 quilt show. We have declared it “wear your quilt show T-shirt to the meeting” days. Many of you have multiple quilt show T-shirts so break them out and wear them proudly announcing our preparation for October 2018.

And, now is not too early to start thinking and working on salable items for Threadneedle Street.

Linda Pumphrey is our 40th anniversary luncheon speaker. It was confirmed that Judy Martin will be the speaker for the annual meeting. You will hear more about both ladies as we approach those dates.

There will be a silent auction at the anniversary luncheon. Items need not be quilted or textile. We have lots of other talents.

Bettina

"The Finder"

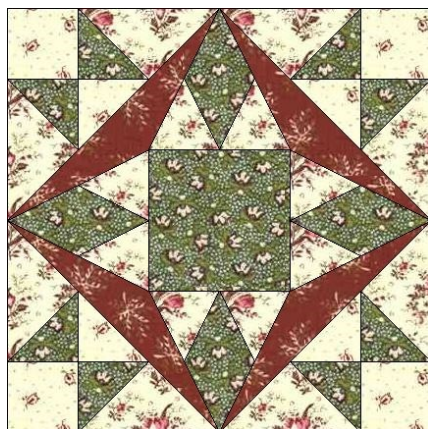

Around my house we seem to spend too much time searching for the 'lost'. We usually find it but not until very possible location has been checked twice...once because that's where it should be and the second time because we can't believe it wasn't there...sometimes it was there.

Recently a member mentioned a book title that she hoped to find. Several of us looked at home to see if we had the book. Meantime she found the book online and purchased it. It occurred to me that we can offer our own "search" service. Meet "The Finder". If you are looking for a book, pattern, or a fabric needed to complete or begin a project send the information to our newsletter editor, Marilyn Wooldridge. Make sure the information is complete. If it's fabric and you have a small swatch send that or scan it and send the scan. And, then be patient while the search can begin. Wait until the newsletter comes out then cross you fingers that we, as a group, can find what you're looking for.

Announcing a block design competition.

Design a 12 inch finished pieced block containing a center square and 40 additional pieces (total 41) to celebrate our 40th anniversary. If designing an appliqué block the background counts as the center square and the rest of the design must contain 40 pieces. Entry deadline is either January chapter meeting. Design the block and make a sample. Our anniversary luncheon speaker will be the judge. There will be prizes and the blocks selected will be used to produce a quilt for the quilt show. You may use any style fabrics you wish; 1900s, batik, 30s, or "modern".

This is a sample of a block that fits the criteria for the block design competition. Use your imagination to make one of your own!
